

THIS IS THE LONGEST CARD OF THANKS PROBABLY EVER PRINTED

So the rural reporters and staff of the Messenger held their fourth annual get-together last Thursday afternoon, this year meeting for lunch at the Weidman Restaurant instead of the usual picnic at Mitchell Memorial Park.

Millie Cale served us up a delectable luncheon, of chicken casserole, salad, hot rolls and ice cream; and Frances Tranbarger of the Flower Shop put a red rose corsage on Ye Ed.

This was climaxed by a very nice speech by Evalina Hibberd, one of the Messenger's newest news writers, and she spoke, in her own delightful way, of old times when she was a writer for the Messenger under Rolla Roe's ownership, back in the old days.

She ended her short speech with a presentation of a gift to Ye Ed from the news writers and staff, of a beautiful set of drapes for our dining-room window.

Needless to say, we were overcome, and couldn't make any proper speech in reply. Those news writers of ours, and our staff, do the nicest things for Ye Ed and Minnie Roe.

A discussion period followed, with a few suggestions from our side, and some invaluable ones from our writers.

Ye Ed wishes to thank them all, from the bottom of her heart. Never did a paper have such wonderful news writers and staff as the Messenger has enjoyed!

Helen Alwood helped us organize the luncheon, and our appreciation goes to her especially, as her help was truly invaluable.

We hung the drapes that night, and hereby invite all those who contributed to their purchase, to drop in and see just how beautiful they look.

Below is the lovely gift card and its verse and signatures:

We hope this little present
Is a gift that you can use;
We also hope it's something
That you yourself would choose.
We hope that you will know,
as well,
The wishes that it brings
From each and every one of us
For all life's finest things!

PARTY AT DREW HALL

The goblins gave a small preview of Hallowe'en last Saturday evening when about 40 people gathered at Drew Hall. However, all the evil spirits were soon dispersed by the games and fun.

Pepper, Scrabble and Sorry games were played with enthusiasm and exuberance.

The culinary talents of the Busy Bee Ladies, which have not changed over the years as the writer can testify, provided a delicious supper.

Clarence Chaffee played guitar accompaniment for his daughters to sing several songs which everyone enjoyed. Then while the ladies washed dishes, Clarence played accompaniment for group singing.

These parties are so enjoyable that we should have more of them.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR JEANINE CHAFFEE

Mrs. Lloyd Leiter was hostess at a bridal shower in honor of Miss Jeanine Chaffee. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Scott Houghton.

Twenty ladies attended and brought many gifts and good wishes.

Jeanine received some useful gifts and recipes for future use. Mrs. Donna Houghton made a bride's cake for the party.

Weekend guests of the Clyde Beutlers were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Johnson and Nancy of Rosebush and James Beutler of Ionia. Jim is doing some repair work on the tenant house on the Beutler farm, where he expects to bring his family to live in our midst again in the near future.

Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. R. Ferguson and Mrs. Leonard visited their mother, Mrs. Brandon, of Newaygo, last Thursday. Weekend visitors at the Hibberd home were Mrs. Lura Beutler, who has just recently returned from California, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith of Vermilion, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Forbes of Toledo, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Chaffee came to spend the weekend at their farm home, but had to return

Friday evening as Bert was suffering from bursitis. Mrs. Roscoe Davis spent the weekend in Lansing with her sisters, Mrs. Upright and Miss Kwolek.
