A BUSINESS WOMAN IN THE KITCHEN

It has been a lifelong gripe of Ye Ed that so much time and energy is of necessity wasted in the kitchen, even the modern one.

Ours is not modern, but we do have many of the gadgets every woman takes for granted in this age. Our gripe about these is the trim on the gadgets, which is invariably chrome; and the company's insignia, which is invariably three-D, chrome, a touch of brass and/or copper, with a smidgin of plastic thrown in. It is invariably a complicated design, guaranteed to catch dust and grime, and the Little Woman is expected to keep it clean and shining.

Nuts.

Our latest gripe is on food packaging. Last week we baked an apple pie with some of Harold Skinner's Northern Spy apples, and it came out good enough to eat. In fact, rather delicious, if we may say so.

The reason it came out well was the fact that we followed recipe measurements exactly, especially as to flour and shortening. Flour is easy to measure. Lard is the stinker.

You take a two-pound package of shortening from your refrigerator; you go about digging spoonfuls out of the rock-like compound, stuffing and bashing it down into a measuring cup, taking care it is firmly packed and no air holes cheating the full-cup measure.

After a while you have a cup of lard, sure enough. And what do you do with it? Why, bless you, you proceed to dig it out of the measuring cup so you can get on with the work of making a pie.

It has been our firm conviction that kitchen engineers are bachelors, and, moreover, woman-haters. They must be, to devise the things they do in the name of labor-saving, modern kitchen doo-dads.

Why in the dickens don't they pack two pounds of lard with one-cup measured markers or wrappers so we can take one cup of lard, forsooth, and make a pie?

(And, yes, we wrote to Peet Packing Company with our gripe. We'll get back a note from the assistant to the assistant to the assistant, in about six months.)

WE'VE HAD SOME BEAUTY SPOTS HERE

We've had some spots of beauty around Weidman, Mich., these

Mrs. Julius Bierschbach

Among the 14 new members who were elected to the Youth and Farm Fair Board last week was Mrs. Julius Bierschbach of Nottawa.

Other members include Maynard Gilmore, Ernie Klumpp, Mrs. Lawrence Nielsen, Mrs. Harold Anderson, B. C. Mellencamp, Stuart Moses, Chet Brown, Matt Engler, Don Gould, Orville Klumpp, Evert Bowerman, Norman Fox, and Donald Sandbrook.

Louis Voisin is in Mt. Clemens General Hospital. He was in critical condition the weekend but was reported a little better Monday.

past few weeks. Willow trees have been especially spectacular, keeping their leaves and color long after other trees lost their leaves.

Big weeping willows at Ruth Momany's, and at George McClain's, were gorgeous, great masses of flowing gold, up to the last of last week, which is a long time for any trees to hold their color here.

Even the spindly weeping willow on the Skinner place in Weidman was nice, for the first time in its life.

And on Monday of this week, we enjoyed a breakfast-table view of our infant-sized clump of birch trees in our yard, which still had a decent number of leaves, of green and yellow.

Not bad for November landscape around here.

Blanche Cliff reported three weeks ago that the cardinals were "up" from the brush surrounding the river's edge at her place.

That's early for cardinals, they are shy birds which come to people-places only when feed becomes scarce in their own environment, which is woods or brush.

And Mildred Garner sent us a color-clipping of a cedar waxwing, rather definitely identifying that bird that flew against Ina Gillette's window and broke its neck in the summer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for all their deeds of kindness, cards, flowers, and food sent us while I was sick. They are greatly appreciated and will always be remembered. Sincerely, Deborah Benn.

BETTER THAN A LETTER

CARD OF THANKS

Your thoughtful tributes to our loved one and the sympathy they conveyed will always be remembered with deepest gratitude.

The Family of Hilda Holliday

NOTICE---To our faithful news writers: The Messenger has the most efficient and faithful writers of any paper we ever heard of. We are getting news of our area such as no other paper can offer. We have a suggestion to make (shucks, let's come right out and call it a request!) to some of our newer writers who have not seen our electric typewriter and our trick copy-holder. Will all writers please put their news down the long way of the paper? (This makes a funny-looking, short up-and down sheet, we acknowledge; but it fits our copy holder. And will all writers please jot down on the first sheet the name of their news letters, or at least the writers' names; and please write on one side of the paper only. Like we said, you're the best news writers a paper ever had; and if you'll do this for us we'll be completely happy. We do thank you. Signed, Connie.

ELECTION FIGURES ARE INTERESTING ON ANALYSIS

The above tabulation of county wide voting in last week's election is interesting, when you notice the number of total votes cast in some townships, the number going Democratic, and the number going for Gov. George Romney.

Ticket-splitting was rather general, apparently, throughout both political parties.

Broomfield Township gave 126 votes to Barry Goldwater, 81 for Johnson; but it gave 175 votes for Romney to 28 for Staebler.

Coldwater Township is another that went for Goldwater, with 92 for the Republican candidate and 91 for Johnson. It showed, however, 131 votes for Romney.

Sherman, normally Republican though drifting toward Democratic control, voted for Johnson, 140 to 128 for Goldwater. It gave 176 votes to Romney and only 88 to Staebler.

So it went. We doubt if there ever was an election showing so large a number of obviously split tickets. Something for political "experts" to mull over, and for the Republican Party to observe with care.

TWO RECOUNTS IN ISABELLA COUNTY

Two recounts of election ballots are scheduled for Isabella County, one in Deerfield Township, and one on the county vote for Registrar of Deeds.

Roy H. Zingery lost by three votes in the official election counts, and a petition was being readied Monday for a county-wide recount.

In the Editor's Mail

Constance Roe Skinner Editor, Weidman Messenger:

Naturally, your cordial and informative letter of the 9th brought many happy thoughts of juvenile days at Weidman, and I am very happy to hear that outside people are discovering the tourist appeal of the old town, and that they are rewarded with good fishing, and do appreciate the hospitality that is in evidence there.

Enclosed is my check for $7.50 for which please send me the Messenger. I have often thought of paying a visit to the spot of my boyhood ramifications, and may decide to do that next year when it will be a pleasure to see you and your associates.

With warm greetings, and high regards, I subscribe as,
Most sincerely yours,

(Editor's Note:)

The above very nice letter was received from Mr. Weidman after we wrote saying that nobody here had heard from him in a year or so, and we hoped he was in good health and happiness.

Mr. Weidman enclosed a clipping from his local newspaper, with the notation, "Our local editor, normally Republican, has gone for LBJ."

Safety Council Issues Answers To Questions

In answer to several calls received recently concerning public safety, the following statement was released by the Isabella County Safety Council.

(1) Younger children who ride bicycles on the sidewalks must be considerate of pedestrians sharing the walkway. The pedestrian really has the "right-of-way" and should not have to jump out of the way of an oncoming bicycle.

(2) According to state law, bicycle riders on streets, roads and highways (except where prohibited on super-highways or by special city ordinance) have as much right to the use of the lanes as any motor vehicle as long as the operator obeys all traffic regulations, signs, etc.

(3) In answer to parents whose children must walk in streets because of the absence of sidewalks . . . Sidewalks must be petitioned for. Available from the city offices, the petition must be signed by 51 per cent of the owners of property in the block on the sides of the street where the sidewalk is desired.

(4) Construction sites provide the perfect atmosphere for tragic accidents. Examples are falling from rafters, falling into

SAFETY COUNCIL URGES PARENT TRAINING FOR KIDS ON BICYCLES

Did you ever try to ride a bicycle, without brakes, or with a loose chain, or with three-foot handlebars, or with loose wheels?

You might say that it would take a circus performer to ride a bicycle in this condition. But you would be wrong. Many parents, according to the Safety Council, allow their children to ride bicycles in this or even poorer condition.

Let the family automobile develop even a small squeak and parents dash to a garage to have it fixed. On the other hand, they will allow their children to ride bicycles that are dangerous and unsafe mechanically.

We allow children to ride into a maze of traffic which is controlled by hundreds of rules and regulations, without first giving them the knowledge to cope with these traffic conditions.

Children are allowed to ride on slippery and icy streets. Sometimes they carry bundles, packages and other children on the bicycle with them. This may be done to such an extent that vision and even balance are lost.

What can parents do? In the first place, parents should recognize the bicycle as a means of transportation, not as a toy to be used as a child sees fit. A bicycle on the street or highway subjects its rider to all of the hazards of vehicle traffic. This includes collisions, sideswipes, and other destruction of property and life.

Make sure your child knows the basic "rules of the road". This includes traffic signs, signals and local ordinances.

If you want to know what kind of automobile driver your son or daughter will be, just observe his or her bicycle riding habits. "Recklessness" and taking chances with a bicycle inevitably lead to the same thing in automobile driving.

Most children will better understand the purpose behind traffic regulations and penalties thereof if parents would enforce some regulations of their own concerning family bicycles.

For example, the following violations and penalties could be used as a starting list:

TWO ON YOUR BICYCLE: No bicycle riding for 1 week.

TRICK RIDING ON THE STREET: No bicycle riding for a month.

HITCHING ON CAR OR OTHER VEHICLE: No bicycle riding for 3 months.

If children are taught to treat their bicycles with proper respect and that sharing the street or highway involves obligations and intelligent actions on their part, then great strides will have been made in reducing bicycle accidents now and automobile accidents in later life.

Some of this teaching can be done in school and by law enforcement agencies, but the bulk of the responsibility lies with the parents.

Promote bicycle and traffic safety in your family. It may save your life or the life of a family member.

Mrs. Russell Stanley and Mrs. Joseph Pung of Beal City assisted the Donald Pung family the past week while Mrs. Pung (Deana) was in the hospital at Mt. Pleasant. Denny and Darlene Pung spent Friday night at the Stanley home.

David Moore of Big Rapids came Friday night to his grandparents', Mr. and Mrs. Stanley's, and spent Saturday with his uncle, Donald Stanley, and family. Mrs. Stanley accompanied her grandson Saturday evening and spent the night and Sunday with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore of Big Rapids. While there Mary Lou, the 13-year-old daughter, became ill and was taken to the Big Rapids hospital at 5.30 Sunday morning. She had to have an appendectomy, but is getting along first-rate.

Hope to report lots of deer stories next week. Good luck to you, hunters!
