VERA TVORIK NARROWLY ESCAPES IN STORM AT FRANKFORT SATURDAY

Mrs. Vera Tvorik paid us a call Monday afternoon to tell us of her frightening experience while fishing for coho salmon on a pier at Frankfort when the devastating storm hit that area Saturday.

They arrived at the pier at 7.30 in the morning, before daylight, and the weather appeared normal.

"It was cold, but there was no indication of a storm," Mrs. Tvorik told us.

Boats of all descriptions and all sizes were streaming out into Lake Michigan, she said, right down to a 10-foot craft and one canoe. Whitecaps were showing while the boats went endlessly out, she reported.

Winds rose steadily, and the waves got higher and higher. At about 10 a. m. some of the boats started coming back in, yet, she said, there were still boats going out, in the face of rising winds and waves.

Mrs. Tvorik's party on the pier noted that waves were becoming higher, and finally, about 10 o'clock, one wave crashed against the pier and almost engulfed it. The wave following that one washed over the pier where the party was standing.

They grabbed frantically at their gear, lunch, her camera, and saved everything they'd brought with them, but barely got to shore ahead of the deadly wave.

Boats were streaming back in from the lake, she said, "But I know there weren't as many boats came back as went out," she said.

"I've never been in anything like that kind of water," she continued, "I never was close to waves so high and dangerous. I never came so close to being washed off a pier and onto rocks below, in my life. I love fishing, but not that much."

Winds and waves appeared to be worst around the lighthouse on the point where boats had to pass to get back in from the lake.

The storm was not predicted by weather bureaus, and apparently was a freak situation of wind and water on Lake Michigan. Dark storm clouds were appearing as Mrs. Tvorik's party left Frankfort around noon.

She said the coho salmon rush is one of those phenomena that happen when something new breaks on the public.

FLOSSIE DAVY HAS A FOUR-BLOOM EASTER LILY--When her daughter, Luella Holcomb, of Pinckney, gave her a blooming lily last Easter time, Flossie Davy enjoyed the plant till the flowers wilted. Then she planted the bulb in one of her many beautiful flower gardens, thinking that it probably wouldn't do much of anything. It didn't--until late July, when spears began to appear and the Easter lily grew fast and thriftily. Last week Flossie had the lovely four-bloom cluster adding beauty to her flower garden at her doorstep. Flossie's flowers are always a delight to the visitor and passerby. Messenger photo

EVELYN HACKNEY'S BIG FISH--Evelyn caught this 15-pound coho salmon in the Manistee River last Wednesday afternoon, wrassling the big one in on a 20-pound-test line.

She was up there with Ed and Agnes Fox, and they fished for the popular new species from 10.30 a. m. to 2.30 p. m., in a small boat. Most popular lure is the U-20 flatfish, and that's the one Evelyn used to get her big fish.

Ed did some real fishing last week, before the cohos came up into the rivers. He got a 12-pounder and a 15-pounder before last Wednesday.

Coho fishing has been a most popular sport with anglers from here this fall.

STUMPS PRETTY WELL OUT ON McCLAIN SIDE OF MILL POND DEVELOPMENT

George McClain, Jr., has completed nearly all of the task of removing stumps and logs from the Mill Pond waters adjacent to his land holdings. Only four or five big logs and stumps remain, and they are too big for his methods of removal, George, Jr., said this week. He plans to get these out with a winch truck.

He removed the smaller debris with a 10-foot boat equipped with an outboard motor. He tied debris with chains and towed it to shore.

The McClain shore lines now are looking very much better. Development of the Pond, to be known as Lake Weidman, is waiting on Willard Searle and his big machines.

NEWS NOTES

Dale Denslow of West Sherman was a Sunday evening caller at the Gary St. John home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Chaffee of Grand Rapids were Saturday afternoon callers of George and Connie Skinner. The Chaffees are looking toward retirement on their beautiful farm-home site on the Chippewa River, in the Lake Isabella area.

ROGER MAEDER WRITES FROM VIET NAM

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Maeder hear from their son, Roger, every week, from Bien Hoa. Roger has been in Viet Nam since last May.

He writes that a boy from Barryton, George Lindsay, is in his company. They are building barracks, airports and other things, but they live in tents.

He says the VCs, rats, and flies are terrible over there.

Roger's address:

Pfc. Roger J. Maeder, US-54961055, Co. B, 169th Engr., APO San Francisco, Calif. 96491. *****

Sp/5 Larry Sisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Sisco, called his folks Sunday (he calls them once a week) and said that he was in two medical units which were placed on the alert for assistance duty in Corpus Christi, Texas, during the recent rampaging of Hurricane Beulah. Larry is waiting out his time till his discharge in January, and is doing some mechanics work, he told his folks. His Viet Nam experience as a medic is not needed at Fort Hood, as there are so many there waiting processing for discharge. *****

Seaman Steve Brown, son of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Brown of Mt. Pleasant, will graduate Oct. 6 from boot training at the Great Lakes Naval School. He enlisted for four years, in July.

Steve is a great-nephew of the George Skinners and Barney Transbargers of Weidman. *****

Marine Sp. Roger D. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowers, arrived home from Viet Nam Sept. 14, and is enjoying this town and area very much. He is originally from Grand Ledge, but says he likes Weidman so much he'd like it as his home. He is stationed at a Marine base in North Carolina till January, when he will be discharged. He was in Viet Nam 13 months.

CHIPPEWA HILLS CHEERLEADERS CHOSEN

Cheerleaders for the Chippewa Hills Warriors include Barb Doerr, captain; and Julie Howard, Janet Graham, Nancy Chapin, Mary Jo Williams, Mary Niedzielski, and alternate Barb Brand.

Four cheerleaders attended a cheer-leading clinic at Central Michigan University. They plan to attend a similar program at Northwood Institute in Midland this Saturday.

In memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Guy Carr, who went to be with the Lord a year ago Oct. 5th, 1966.

Beloved! Yes, But Jesus loved him best. He called him from this world of grief and pain, And gave him rest.

We vision him walking the streets of gold, In a land of joy and bliss, In the Presence of our Lord In perfect happiness.

No one but God can understand Our aching hearts, the empty place.

He sees each falling tear And provides sufficient grace; Assures us we shall meet again. And we are led to see Our affliction is but for a moment Compared to eternity.

Sadly missed by his wife, Violet Carr, and family. Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord... that they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them. Revelation 14:13.

Dear George and Connie:

We were very glad to receive a copy of our dandy local paper with a picture of a handsome man on the front page!

Will place this copy in our fire-proof safe and save it for my great-grandchildren.

We are sorry not to have news for the Messenger last week. Cora has not been well for three weeks, and is taking medicine frequently. I will help her, and hope we do better this week.

Dr. Beall of Traverse City has set Nov. 27 as the day for my eye surgery, and I hope to see better after that day.

Many of our old friends are leaving us, George and Connie, so let us be thankful to be as well as we are.

Yours sincerely
 Bert Estes.

WARRIORS NIP MUSTANGS IN FRIDAY NIGHT GAME

Chippewa Hills got its first taste of Class B competition at Barryton Friday night against Meridian, and found the going tough. It was a defensive battle all the way, but the Warriors' determination and fighting spirit finally won out in the fourth quarter, enabling them to edge out the Mustangs, 6-0.

This Friday night Chippewa Hills plays host to the Marion Eagles at Barryton at 8 o'clock. This promises to be an exciting game, with the Eagles riding high on a 21-game winning streak. The Warriors are out to be the first team to break the streak. It will also be "Dads' Night," with all dads of the varsity players being introduced at half time in a special program.

WARRIORS NIP MUSTANGS IN FRIDAY NIGHT GAME

Chippewa Hills got its first taste of Class B competition at Barryton Friday night against Meridian, and found the going tough. It was a defensive battle all the way, but the Warriors' determination and fighting spirit finally won out in the fourth quarter, enabling them to edge out the Mustangs, 6-0.

This Friday night Chippewa Hills plays host to the Marion Eagles at Barryton at 8 o'clock. This promises to be an exciting game, with the Eagles riding high on a 21-game winning streak. The Warriors are out to be the first team to break the streak. It will also be "Dads' Night," with all dads of the varsity players being introduced at half time in a special program.

WEIDMAN HEP TOPS NEWS

Ettabells Sellers, Reporter
The Weidman "Hep Tops" diet club met at the Weidman school Sept. 19, with 33 members present.

Total weight loss for the club was recorded at 42 1/2 pounds, with gains of 11 3/4 pounds.

Carol Bierschbach was crowned Queen for the week, and Becky Graham Princess. Jan Carrick won the door prize.

Area Recognition Day will be Oct. 6 at the University Ballroom on Central Michigan University campus. A banquet will be held, and recognition given to girls with the highest weight loss. One highlight of the evening will be a baggy dress parade, in which the girls will model dress worn before dieting.

One of our girls has lost 92 1/2 pounds since our club started in January, so won't you gals who need help come join with us every Tuesday evening, 7.30, at the Weidman school. Everyone welcome.

Also, next week we will report total weight loss for the club since we started in January. See you lighter.

NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Gladys Wiley left Monday morning for Benton Harbor to spend a few days with her brother, Ike Hampton, before returning to her home in Atlanta, Ga. Gladys had spent two weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Edna Schultz.

MRS. SCHULTZ HONORED ON HER 80TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Edna Schultz was honored on her 80th birthday last Friday afternoon when her daughter, Gladys Wiley, sponsored an Open House reception for her at her home here.

Edna is probably Weidman's oldest businesswoman, having been active in office work in the Ford Garage of "Tough" Hampton, her husband who died.

The Hampton Ford Garage was Weidman's first auto dealership, and "Tough" also sold Ford tractors. The Clyde Beutlers bought their first farm tractor from the Hamptons.

Seventeen ladies attended Edna's afternoon party, which was highlighted by refreshments, including, of course, a beautiful birthday cake.

We congratulate our neighborly and gracious first-lady of business on the occasion, and wish her many more Happy Birthdays.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED--Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Brown (Jean Garner) of Mt. Pleasant announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Jo, to James Lommel, son of Mrs. Edward Lommel, of Ann Arbor. Miss Patricia is working on her Master's Degree in Special Education for the Handicapped. Mr. Lommel is a Physics major at the University of Michigan, and will graduate in December. An October wedding is being planned. The bride-elect is a great-niece of the George Skinners and Barney Tranbargers of Weidman.

Editor's Column

By Connie

"It's like a gold rush," Mrs. Tvorik said. "You never saw such traffic, from all over--the southern Michigan counties, and we saw license plates from other states as well.

"I think it's because it's a new thing," she said. "Probably next year the coho salmon runs will simply attract a good big number of tourists and fishermen to Michigan.

"But this first year it's been a sort of madness with the people."

The cohos were planted by the Michigan Conservation Department last year, and are proving a tremendous success, both in survival and growth in Lake Michigan, and in attracting fishermen.

Let's hope we all are calmer by next year at this time.

WEIDMAN LIONS CLUB

GOOD TURNOUT FOR WORK ON PAVILION AT PARK

The Weidman Lions Club met Sept. 6 at the Methodist Church in Weidman, in the basement, at 6.30 p. m. The ladies served a delicious chicken supper. There were 14 members present and one visitor, Veron Miller.

James Lenton became a new member.

The secretary's report was read. There was a good turnout on the second work night. Much progress was made. A new roof and paint were put on the concession stand at Mitchell Memorial Park, and the north end of the pavilion was painted.

We have 18 active members. If anyone would like to join, contact Leon McArthur.

Sept. 20 the Lions Club met at the church basement, with 12 members present. Two ladies served us with a tasty steak supper. The men all enjoy the food the ladies of the parish serve them.

Oct. 5 the Lions Club district meeting will be held in Greenville, at 7 o'clock. Delegates from here will be Clayton Miller, Ed Fox, Bernard Pitts, Leon McArthur, and Emil Lueder.

Richard Cook gave an interesting talk on raising potatoes from the time the contract is signed until they are harvested.

If anyone has a program, contact Edward Fox.
