MY REPRESENTATIVES IN GOVERNMENT DID NOT ASK ME HOW I FELT ABOUT NIXON

See by the papers that the Congressmen, upon reconvening after the Christmas holiday vacation, carried back with them the feelings and wishes of their constituents back home.

I can't help wondering just where the Congressmen went to ask their constituents how they felt about impeachment of President Nixon and other pressing problems of government.

Nobody asked me anything, in person or by mail. I haven't seen a politician in my home town in lo! these many years.

Rep. Elford Cederberg of Bay City, our Representative in the national Congress, has a "liaison man" in Mt. Pleasant for an hour once or twice a month, taking up office in the County Building (a county tax-supported liability), and any who wish to drive to Mt. Pleasant and be there during that hour may ask him questions and take messages supposedly back to Washington to Rep. Cederberg.

I wouldn't recognize Rep. Cederberg if I ran into him on Weidman's street, which isn't likely.

I haven't even seen our state Representative, Johnny Engler, for years. He's all over Mt. Pleasant and often (there's a raft of votes over there), but he doesn't have to wander out in the sticks any more on personal-appearance jaunts.

He sends out innumerable mailing pieces prepared by the publicity office for Republican legislators in Lansing, always with a good photo of Johnny in conspicuous place; and announcing some detail of Michigan life that's been on radio and tv and in newspapers a week or so.

But I haven't talked with Johnny for a long time.

Politicians believe they don't have to endure close contact with the common herd any more; they can send liaison men, or printed pieces through the mail; and of course they can make speeches at various

THE LIL' MAC BRIDGE--Where next Sunday's pig roast dinner will be held, observing the second anniversary of Lil' Mac Bridge Day, on the Elwood Miller farm. The bridge was built during the past two-three years entirely by snowmobile enthusiasts, and is for snowmobiles only. Engineering, footing and suspension-cable work all were done by local men, and it is a marvel of sound bridge building. It spans the Chippewa River on a west edge of the Miller farm. Some of its road signs are spoofs, and definitely the sign in the middle of the bridge is a laugh. (shown in photo below). Photos taken last year at the first celebration and pig roast in February, by the Weidman Messenger.

HERE'S A CLOSER VIEW OF A SPOOF SIGN READING: "Your Tax Dollars at Work". No tax dollars were used on the Lil' Mac Bridge--all the work on it was purely a labor of love--and enthusiasm of snowmobilers.

Lil' Mac admittance buttons are already appearing on coats and jackets throughout Isabella County, with folks waiting for Sunday and the delicious outdoor dinner and fun-day.

LAVISH PIG ROAST DINNER THIS SUNDAY AT LIL' MAC BRIDGE ON THE MILLER FARM

The big day is this coming Sunday, Feb. 17, at the Elwood Miller farm northwest of Weidman, when hundreds will gather to enjoy a lavish roast-pig dinner and observe the second anniversary party at the Lil' Mac Bridge, a snowmobile crossing over the Chippewa River.

Members of the Nottawa and Sherman Fire Department, the Weidman Business Association and the Beal City Business Association--and their wives--are working hard this week on last-minute preparations for the big event.

On the dinner menu there will be roast pig (four whole pigs roasted over charcoal fires by Harry Pung and assistants Bob Kirvan and others); dressing; home-baked bread ready-spread with butter, fresh out of ovens; the super-delicious bean soup made from the recipe of Evelyn Hackney, baked potatoes, and soft drinks.

Tickets are on sale at most business places in Weidman and Beal City, and from any Fireman or business person in the two towns. Three dollars gets you a Lil' Mac admittance button which entitles you to the dinner and an afternoon of whatever snow sport you prefer, on the beautiful rolling fields of the Miller farm.

There are many working hard this week to make the dinner and the day a perfect one, and not the least among them are Firemen and their wives; volunteers such as Harry Pung, Bob Kirvan, Jim Radey, who tended the soup kettle last year and will again this Sunday; he and Harry Pung have been working for six weeks to get ready for this year's celebration.

Others who pitched in last year (and probably are again this year) include Oliver Ward, Paul Simmer and Bob Deckard and their wives. Some Firemen's wives worked long hard hours on the serving line last year, and this detail is being planned to avoid hardship come Sunday.

This week Friday night Firemen and their wives, business men and their wives, and any volunteers who may appear will meet at the Fire Hall in Weid-

MICHELE CLARK IS HOME!

Small Michelle Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Clark, came home from the burn center at the University Hospital at Ann Arbor Sunday, after being there since the first week of December. She will have to go back often for treatments, but was reported as coming along well. The family are all happy to be together again, at home.

FARM BUREAU WOMEN ENJOY MEET AT FARM HOME

By Mary Beutler

The January meeting of the Isabella County Farm Bureau Women was held at the home of Mrs. Marie Swindlehurst. Nine community groups were represented, to enjoy a dinner and business meeting.

Applications are now being accepted from area Farm Bureau students now in the 10th and 11th grades in their schools to attend the 1974 Michigan Farm Bureau Young People's Citizenship Seminar. About 200 students will convene on the Albion College campus next June 24 to 28. Deadline for accepting applications is April 1. Interested students may obtain more information from the County Farm Bureau office in Mt. Pleasant.

Farm Bureau safety kits were designed for the home, attaching to machinery or placed in any work area. The kits may be obtained from Mrs. Ray Merritt, Blanchard, Women's Safety chairman; or Mrs. Edmund Wonsey, Mt. Pleasant District 8's Women's chairman; or by calling the County Farm Bureau office. Order yours today so you will be prepared for those emergencies when the spring work starts.

We are fortunate to have in our organization the chairman of the MacKenzie Trust Fund Board. Mrs. Lillian Wonsey recently was elected to her fourth term as chairman, and through her participation and interest the Farm Bureau Women's Committee has made an annual contribution to the trust fund. The Farm Bureau Women's Committee is the only organization at present whose name appears on the plaques in both the Isabella County Medical Care Facility and Central Michigan Community Hospital.

Mrs. Wonsey gave a very informative review of the MacKenzie Trust Fund and how it aids our community. Through our annual contribution, an acknowledgment is sent to the family of every deceased member throughout the year. Individuals may make contributions in lieu of flowers for either In Memory Of, or Illness of a Loved One, and an acknowledgment card is sent to the family from their secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stilgenbauer of Rosebush related some of the highlights of their recent trip to Atlantic City and New York, where they attended the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting. Bud was roll call chairman for Isabella County this year. The appearance of Vice President Ford as well as Michigan's receiving the Golden Eagle award for program promotion were among their most memorable events. They would be happy to meet with any group and share their trip.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Dean and Virginia Taylor, near Blanchard. It is our Valentine Special, and each lady is asked to bring her husband or another lady from their community group. Hand-made valentines from each lady will be enjoyed. A special program is planned, and everyone is urged to attend, Tuesday, Feb. 19, with pot-luck dinner at noon.

FREE SIGN LANGUAGE CLASS AT MID MICHIGAN COLLEGE

Mid Michigan Community College is offering a class in Sign Language for the general public starting Feb. 26. The tuition-free class will meet for 10 consecutive weeks at Mid Michigan's campus starting at 7 p. m. and ending at 9.

The class will be taught by Joe Vane of Harrison. He has practiced sign language for years, as both his parents are deaf. Actual usage of sign language is not difficult for the adult to learn, the college points out. The only charge for the class will be the cost of a textbook, approximately $6.

To enroll in the class you may call Mid Michigan Community College at 386-7792.

LITTLE DOG LOST GOES HOME

In last week's Messenger Mrs. Irma Kische advertised for her little brown dog, Penny, missing from home a week.

Penny has long curly hair, and when found by Louise Smith near the Weidman school Thursday, his coat was literally full of burs, even the hair over his eyes, so that one eye was injured and swollen by the roughness of burs; his feet were full of the burs, and Mrs. Kische said she spent a couple of hours cutting hair so she could relieve him of the prickly things.

Penny was thin, she said, and absolutely tired out. Apparently he wandered off and got lost, unable to find his way back to his much-loved home and owner.

It's not often we can print a happy story about a lost dog. So here's one.

Everybody's happy for Penny's return home. Especially Penny.

BOB GROSS NOW WRITING SPORTS WITH BYLINE

That most coveted by all news writers, a byline, has been earned by Weidman's Bob Gross on the Lansing State Journal, where Bob has been writing sports for years.

On papers the size of the State Journal, you have to be good to earn a byline; and also you have to prove your worth over a time-span of years.

Bob has earned his byline, and we're proud of him, and happy. Bob, in his high school days, worked on the old Weidman Messenger (and wrote the Weidman High School sports), and later, after graduation, he wrote sports on the Mt. Pleasant Times-news, becoming sports editor there.

Then he got a chance on the Lansing State Journal, and has made good on a major newspaper. That's our Bob.

In the Editor's Mail

Dear Connie:

Well, Connie, I'm just waiting for lunch time, then I'll go shuffle three games and sit there in the sun and sweat. I had just a little fire in the stove three nights during December. It's hot as ever since. They say there hasn't been a January like this since 1936.

My neighbor, the bee man, got his garden in, here at the park.

Clayton Smith said people were without heat for a while. How glad I am to be here in the sunshine, kids going barefoot and some grownups, too.

I guess there must be lots of shut-ins up there this winter, with your snow and ice. Have the fishermen been doing anything up there? No fishing here this winter, too hot. I guess the fish are all out in deep water.

Got a quart of strawberries for lunch, 85 cents a quart, and lots of grapefruit and oranges, so that's why I like it here.

If I could, I'd send some sunshine up there.

We play 500 rummy, go bingo playing twice a week, play shuffleboard, cook and eat. That's the way it goes.

Dear Connie:

Beulah and I were looking over the Weidman paper which we received today, and noticed your article about Michelle

Clark. We would like to help, but didn't see where to send our contribution, so are sending it to you to forward. We know you would be glad to do it.

Beulah and I are enjoying one of Florida's warmest winters in years. We have been having 80-degree temperatures for over a month until today, and it was only 68.

Gasoline is short here, and we haven't done any traveling this year.

We are feeling fine, and hope you and Frances are o.k.

Glenn Scott

(Editor's Note: The Buchel girls, Leona and Loraine, have been spearheading a drive to obtain financial help for little Michelle Clark's hospital expenses, which are enormous.

(The Michelle Clark Fund has been set up at the Citizens Bank & Trust at Clare, and any contributions from others may be sent to that address.

(So far Leona and Loraine have raised $254, from a bake sale they held, and from contributions like the above, and a generous check from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hobart of Plymouth, Mich.; and smaller contributions from individuals around here.)

It was another sister, Minnie Wassenschmidt, who was in the hospital. Jo was fine and dandy when she called us to correct this, although she was tired, having taken her sister to the hospital and stayed with her, and then attending to affairs when the sister's home was broken into last week. COUNTY CHECKER TOURNEY PLANNED BY PARKS AND REC

A county-wide checkers tournament is being developed by the Isabella County Parks and Recreation Commission, with the county laid out in the following areas for competition: Weidman-Beal City area, Mt. Pleasant, Shepherd, Blanchard, and Rosebush.

Each area will encourage the checker games until there is a champion determined for each area--he or she will receive a prize for that--and then the play will go on until there emerges a county champion checkers player.

Entry in the checkers games and contest is free of charge, and all ages and classifications of groups are invited to participate. Play begins Monday, Feb. 18, with a deadline for signing up set for Feb. 22.

For further information on the local and county situation, players are urged to contact Bud Fredrickson at Bud's Party Store in Weidman.

Places for playing are elastic, with no great impediment to anyone on getting in games. Players may enter only in one area for competition. Checker players on this side of the county are urged to enter for play as Beal City-Weidman contestants. Schools also are entering the contest, with classes in playing offered to kids in kindergarten through sixth grade here at the Weidman school, grades 7th and 8th, and 9th graders through 12 12th grade. School staffs also are eligible to play. College students at CMU will be organized in that area.

Checkers is a good old-fashioned game that can be as intricate as chess, or as simple as dominoes. Checker players everywhere now have a chance to get back in the game.
