YOU MIGHT CALL IT BILL'S NORTH ROAD

Fill for the three-foot raising of the north road across the mill pond came from a hill convenient to the road, on Bill and Tressie Ohls' property on the north side of the pond.

"I just gave it to 'em," Bill told the Messenger. "We want to see that road done, don't we?"

Big road trucks and machines were still working there this week, having accomplished, so far, installation of two tubes replacing the dangerous old bridge, and the main part of the fill on the road itself.

In getting dirt for the fill, the road machines sheared Bill's hill right down to a whisper, if any, and the view across the pond is enhanced thereby.

When she's done and black-topped, we're gonna have a road, there, boy. And it's a very pretty view right now.

To say nothing of Bill's hill's shearing making a wider space for fishermen on that road.

Yeah, fish are hittin' we hear. Pike, and also the panfish are beginning, according to our outdoors department.

WEIDMAN WEEKEND SPECIALS DREW CROWDS

Most Weidman business places put on ultra-specials last weekend, on an experimental basis. This included the Messenger.

Speaking for ourselves, we'll say we sure got response to our ad in last week's paper. We have just about all those 50-cent three-months subscriptions we can afford to carry. And they came in from 1 to 5 Saturday afternoon.

Other places report similar response to their bargain offers.

Goes to illustrate what we've preached in the advertising business:

You gotta have what people want, then you gotta plan on a price they'll grab for; then let 'em know about it (advertise), and you're in business.

WBA Puts Gatehouse Team In Softball League

The Weidman Business Association was faced with a tough situation at its postponed meeting Monday night, in the fact of having a local softball team, that of Leo Gatehouse, voted off the season's playing schedule by the softball league managers, and the WBA feeling that local teams should take precedence over those from outside areas.

Its difficulty lay in its having previously requested John L. Forest to assume full management of the league, and lay out the season's schedule, and on Monday night feeling compelled to overrule and contradict John.

After two hours of debate, it was finally decided to request removal of the Mt. Pleasant North End team from the league schedule this summer and let in the Gatehouse team.

John L. has been manager of the league for several years, and does a very fine job; and it was with deep regret and embarrassment that the WBA felt it had to act contrary to his wishes.

Softball teams now listed in the league include Walt's Bait Shop, IGA, Don Thorpe, Straus Bros., Gatehouse, and State Home and Training School, Mt. Pleasant, composed of local residents working at the Home.

Other work scheduled for this meeting was mainly given up, as the softball question took up most of the two-and-a-half-hour meeting.

Ed Fox advised that the Lions Club offered to pay half for a large power riding mower for the park. The WBA took up the offer and ordered the mower.

Saturday afternoon attractions for the summer were touched upon, but not developed.

In the Editor's Mail

Dear Friends of "Weidman Messenger," Michigan:

It was a thrill to read your friendly little paper, and the article I had enclosed with a letter to Fern Ellis. Thank you! I look forward with joy to future issues, and your history on old Brinton, etc., and Coldwater Township. That section holds a large corner in my heart, and memories are dear to me.

I like the little verse, I don't recall the author:

"God gave us memories That we might have Roses in December."

Also it has been said that "The road to tomorrow leads through yesterday."

You may like these little pen drawings, reproductions. With every good wish to you and your paper,

Sincerely
Tina Mae Jenne

Will Test For Oil In Village

Jim Leonard, of the Leonard Oil Company, and Tom Knapp, manager of land and geological department for Leonard Company, were in Weidman last week to choose the location for another try at oil in the Weidman area.

This time it will be in Mitchell Memorial Park, right in the village.

Mr. Knapp brought along a letter to the Messenger, which we hereby give you:

Dear Connie:

I know you have waited long and patiently for the opportunity to print an account of the proposed Dundee oil test well to be drilled at Weidman, so here is your chance.

We started leasing nearly four years ago, finally drilling a well on the Grewette and Cliff property just southeast of town, in late 1955. It was dry, as you remember.

This well led us to believe that oil might lie under the town of Weidman itself, so we proceeded with the lengthy process of leasing all of the town lots that could be obtained. Now we have leased nearly all of the resident property owners and are ready to send leases to the out-of-town owners of Weidman lots. We are hoping that these will cooperate as fully as the fine people of Weidman in promptly signing up and returning their leases.

We do not have the deal "in the bag," as yet. The untimely death of one of our associates delayed the work considerably. Its completion will depend upon the results we get in leasing with the non-resident property owners and some other matters still pending. It has been a long, hard job to arrive at our present position. We hope that we can get this well drilled and that it will succeed, bringing prosperity to your

Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Sisco will observe their 60th wedding anniversary next Sunday, May 18, with open house at the Oddfellows Hall at Barryton. Their many friends and relatives will call to offer congratulations and best wishes for continued long life.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisco have eight children living. They are Roy, Virgil and Wayne, and Mabel and Emma Cummings, Tessie Pridgeon, Beulah Loomis, and Gertrude Sperry.

Friends and relatives are cordially invited by Mr. and Mrs. Sisco to attend their open house.

The Messenger adds its congratulations to those of their many friends.

They get Mannie up in a chair and wheel him in to see Jennie, who is still flat on her back. Mannie's brother, Rollie, passed away a few weeks ago. Jennie wants to be remembered to all her friends and neighbors. She is very thankful to be as well as she is, and to have a wonderful home to stay in, and to be taken care of. The Youngs were sorry to hear of Leon McArthur's illness, and sent prayers for his recovery.

It's perfectly proper to buy the engagement ring BEFORE you pop that big question, especially if you've been alert to hints about her style preference and finger size. Many girls believe the "surprise" element is a must for this romantic occasion.

It's all right, too, to play it cagey by choosing the ring together after she says "yes". She can then have her own way as to style. You can visit your jeweler alone ahead of time to discuss prices. Trust him to stay within your price range.
